Wellhead Oil Recovery

Medium and high-end wellhead equipment and manifolds

This product is suitable for exploiting two di erent formations simultaneously in one wellbore, and can be controlled and operated separately.

Product Features

- The body bearing parts are integrally forged, with reliable quality.

Independent installation, double-tubing hanger design for assembly and disassembly.

Compact structure, small size and multiple functions for easy installation and maintenance.

Suitable for various casing and tubing procedures.

All-metal sealing structure and reliable sealing.

Integral Christmas tree to ensure smaller installation height and size and higher sealing reliability.