Single barrel multi-well wellhead device

This product is suitable for exploiting three or more different

Product Features

Three or more separate wellheads can be installed in a single pipe.

Each wellhead can be installed independently without affecting each other.

Effectively reduce the number of mining platforms, and reduce platform development costs.

The tubing hanger allows for dual cable traversal with a control line interface.

Integral Christmas tree is designed to reduce installation height and size and improve sealing reliability.

Stable and reliable in long-term use, with a long service life.